RESEARCH PROMOTION POLICY

1. Preamble

In keeping with its vision and mission statement 'to excel in teaching-learning, research and consultancy', Patna Women's College (Autonomous) is committed to create and establish a quality research culture in the institution; promote research aptitude among the teachers and students; and provide a supportive environment for conducting fruitful research. The research policy will apply to all the faculty members, the staff appointed as parts of research projects and the students.

2. Objectives of the Research Promotion Policy

The Research Promotion Policy provides a broad framework and a set of standard norms for conducting research and research based developmental activities at Patna Women's College. The basic objectives of the policy are:

- To create and promote a culture of research among the faculty, staff and students of Patna Women's College (Autonomous).
- To identify research areas and specific research topics of academic, practical, scientific and social relevance.
- To organize seminars/webinars/conferences/workshops/training programmes on significant and time referent themes and methodologies.
- To ensure quality, integrity and ethics in research.
- To create and administer a research fund (seed money) for supporting and facilitating research initiatives and projects for the faculty members and students.
- To develop rules, procedures and guidelines for granting research support, instituting research awards and supporting other research and development related activities.
- To encourage and facilitate the faculty members for the publication of research work/projects in reputed academic journals.
- To encourage and facilitate the faculty members for presentation/communication of the research work/projects as well as their findings and recommendations through academic events such as workshops/ seminars/ guest lecture or the media.

- To publish quality research journals of interdisciplinary nature.
- To bring about compendiums of abstracts and books of papers presented by the delegates at various seminars / conferences / webinars organised by the institution.

3. Establishment of Research Advisory Committee

Patna Women's College has established a Research Advisory Committee for encouraging and promoting the research culture in the institution. The responsibilities of the Research Committee include promoting the departments to organize seminars/ webinars/ workshops/ conferences/ training programmes; encouraging the teachers to undertake research projects and explore the funding agencies for the same; conducting orientation programmes on research ethics; undertaking the publication of research journals Explore and IRIS; and incorporating Institutional Research Awards for teachers and students. The Research Committee is composed of senior teachers from different Departments as members headed by a Research Committee Coordinator; and the Principal as the Chairperson.

4. Promotion of Research

- Patna Women's College publishes one interdisciplinary annual research journal Explore and one science journal IRIS to inspire the teachers and students to undertake quality research and publication.
- For motivating the emerging researchers, the institution invites proposals from the faculty members every year and provides research grants in form of seed money for the selected proposals.
- For inculcating a research aptitude, the institution on a continual basis promotes a research culture by providing financial assistance to selected students from Departments of Science, Arts, Commerce and Education and appoints teachers as research supervisors for innovative research projects.
- In order to facilitate interdisciplinary research and to provide access to advanced research equipment, the Institution has a Central Research Laboratory (CRL). The CRL remains open on every working day for the researchers and a Research Supervisor is appointed to supervise its functioning.

5. Conduct of Research

The management of Patna Women's College (Autonomous) hereby asserts the following principles for the conduct of research:

- The researchers will be free to select the topic and theme of research; and to seek financial assistance from any authorized funding agency.

- The management shall provide a conducive research environment; such as adequate space, basic infrastructural resources, library, laboratories, IT facilities and so on.
